

Dringende oproep aan SAPD

Besorgde inwoner, per brief, Vryburg – Die skrywe rig ek spesifiek aan die polisie, namens besigheidseienaars van Vryburg.

Tans is misdaad in die dorp buite beheer.

Ons besighede is besig om af getrek te word, terwyl kliënte van kleiner buurdorpe na stede uit wyk vir besigheid. Ouer mense kan ook glad nie meer dorp toe gaan vir besigheid nie.

Elke dag is daar nuwe mense wat geteiken en dan beroof word. Toeriste loop ook deesdae gereeld deur en die kriminele kom skotvry daarvan af. Indien daar nie 'n oplossing gevind word nie, sal die SAPD 'n versoek aan die minister moet rig vir hulp en bystand van die weermag. As gevolg van die hoë misdaad is daar reeds heelwat besighede wat genoep is om hul deure toe te maak. Dit sal weer op die ou einde die werkloosheidsyfer in ons dorp verhoog. Dit is dus 'n bese kringloop wat misdaad gaan laat toeneem. Die dien as 'n noodkreet van hulp van Vryburg se besighede, asook sy inwoners.

Solar plants in construction phase

Stellalander-Vryburg - Community members here have recently been asking questions regarding the Solar project which will be started outside the town.

This follows various notices which were placed in our newspaper during February.

The notice advertised contracting and job recruitments.

During March Stellalander communicated with a marketing and communications agency which speaks for Juwi Renewable Energies (Wind Energy and Solar Energy).

Sue Parker-Smith, Managing Director of the agency confirmed that the Waterloo Solar Farm which will be started outside Vryburg, as well as the Bokamoso Solar Park outside of Leeudoringstad have already started their construction phase.

"However, it is still early days. We think it is a bit premature to do an article now. We can revisit the story in June. We will be able to send comprehensive information as well as images,"

Parker-Smith concluded.

Several interviews will be scheduled with appropriate spokespersons before an article will be published during June.
